TEDxRheinMainSalon Presents

DATANAUTS

Decoding The Future
BECOME A TEDx SPEAKER

You?
you don't need to be a data scientist to submit idea, because anyone can have great ideas

closing date for submissions 30 April, 2015
A Datanaut is someone that understands the power data has or can have. Someone who wants to make the invisible visible.

Someone who wants to create new insights by mining, analysing and interpreting data. Someone who wants to make the world a little better place.
Ideas can be submitted until April 30th 2015. Submission can be provided by either a single person or a team.

From all submissions the jury will select 10 ideas for the workshop. The winners will pitch their ideas there. A jury will select 5 best projects out of 10. Workshop will take place at Accenture Campus Kronberg.

After projects are developed and development phase is over, the jury will select one winner.

The winner will present her/his idea and result on TEDxRheinMain stage as a speaker. Other 4 projects will be presented at the booth. Event will take place at Accenture Campus Kronberg.
Your idea can deal with the aggregation, usage, crowdsourcing, production or visualisation of data. It should fit into one of the following categories: Mobility, Environment, Culture, Common Good. All sorts of ideas are welcome as long as data is involved.
Big Data? Big Ideas?
Enter your big data project idea and become a TEDx speaker.

See your big idea come true.

Your idea can deal with the aggregation or usage, the crowdsourcing or production or the visualization of data.

It should fit into one of the following categories: Mobility, Environment, Culture, Common Good. Everything is

Apply to become a TEDx speaker

ABOUT ME

Given name

Family name

email

Germany

MY DATA IDEA

Describe in 4-5 sentences your idea and problem you want to solve with data

Submit